

Festival of Plants

On Saturday 20th May 2017

10:00 - 17:00 at Cambridge Botanical Garden

There is something for everyone at this year's Festival of Plants. Free garden tours, ask-the-gardener and plant science stalls where University researchers share how they are using plant science to solve global problems, are just a few of the highlights on offer at this family event, held tomorrow (Saturday 20th May) at Cambridge University Botanical Garden.
