

Latham 'Multi Coloured Sock Swap' Fundraising Event

Thursday 12th October

Latham House will be fund raising for Action for Children, a charity that began nearly 150 years ago when Methodist minister Thomas Bowman Stephenson saw children living on the streets of London and decided he needed to act. The aim and ambition of the charity is that any child who needs help, gets help. Within Cambridgeshire, Action for Children have three children's homes which provide care & support to children, young people and families in the area.

Find out more about this charity here <https://www.actionforchildren.org.uk>

Latham House asks that, in return for a £1 donation, the pupils swap their school socks for socks of their own choice for a day on Thursday 12th October.

Children should bring their £1 into school which will be collected by their tutors.

Many thanks for supporting this charity.
