'Margaret White has spent a lifetime in and reflecting upon schools. She has written a wise and fresh book that all those connected with education, as parents, teachers, governors and administrators, and above all politicians, can read with profit and delight.' Sir Anthony Seldon, Political Historian and Biographer, and Vice Chancellor of Buckingham University

A GOOD EDUCATION

A NEW MODEL OF LEARNING TO ENRICH EVERY CHILD

MARGARET WHITE

Foreword by Sir Leszek Borysiewicz, Vice-Chancellor Emeritus University of Cambridge

A David Fulton Book

This book explains how good contemporary education can be achieved, identifying its essential elements, and exploring their origins, implications and outworkings. A Good Education introduces a new 'four-dimensional' model of learning to enrich every child, so encouraging each individual to flourish as a unique and valued member of their learning community.

'A compelling account of why ethos-based education really does matter'
Keith Budge, Chair HMC

'Anyone who cares about the education of our children should read it'
David Hansen, Chief Executive, IAPS

'A breath of fresh air... a timely, wise study'
Rowan Williams, former Archbishop of Canterbury

'Beautifully written, a memorable representation of ensuring children thrive at school' Brett Wigdortz, CEO Teach First

'Inspiring, thorough and practical... A wise approach that could be applied in any school' David Ford, Church of England Vision for Education

'Invaluable to teachers and parents... unique, riveting and taboo-busting'
Peter Florence, Founder Hay Festival

'It will give many people hope and a clearer way forward... This book made me happy!' Lisbet Rausing, philanthropist