

A Guide to Some Possible Mathematics Activities to Enjoy at Home

It is always a pleasure to see so many children enjoying Maths at St Faith's but we are sometimes asked how this enthusiasm can be carried over into the home. To help with this we have produced a short guide, available on the VLE, as to a range of activities that parents can do with their children. No doubt many of you do lots of these things already, but there might be something in it that you were not aware of, and the links to various webpages can lead you on to find even more suggestions.
