

Cambridge Strings Afternoon

On Sunday, the Music Department hosted pupils from over twenty-eight schools for the second Cambridge Strings Day with the European String Teachers Association. The ensemble of assembled young string players combined to perform three orchestral classics including America, from West Side Story (Bernstein), New York, New York (John Kander) made famous by Frank Sinatra and the Waltz by Tchaikovsky that features in the Disney movie Sleeping Beauty. Directed by Marianne Olyver the children achieved an outstanding level of playing, in only two hours of rehearsal) and the performance given to parents at 17:00 that evening was astonishing.

St Faith's will be hosting ESTA once again next year.
