

Cambridge Music Festival

On Wednesday sixteen St Faith's percussionists took part in an exciting concert as part of the Cambridge Music Festival in the Cambridge Corn Exchange with percussion ensemble Collin Currie Group. The pupils used the very fabric of the Corn Exchange herself as their percussion instrument to open this exciting concert. The concert featured the minimalist music of Steve Reich (Year 8 will be familiar with minimalist music) including his epic pieces Six Marimbas and Electric Counterpoint. BBC Look East and ITV News dropped in to share the news across the region of the young musicians taking part in such a high profile, exciting and energising concert.
