

Primary Mathematics Challenge

The invitation for those pupils who have been selected to take part in the bonus round of this year's National Primary Mathematics Challenge has just come in and we are delighted to report that four of our Year 6 pupils have made it through. This means that, out of the 66,000 pupils taking part, Hetty Baldwin, Henry Wilson, Ash Goel and Maya Joseph-Browning will be doing an extra paper in February. Well done to them all!

For anyone wishing to break up the Christmas festivities with a few mathematical problems, previous year's questions can be accessed via the following link
