

Choral Evensong

Fourteen younger members of Senior Voices volunteered to sing Choral Evensong at St Margaret's Parish Church, Newton, on Sunday. The service was part of the parish's Harvest Festivities. The singers, in Year 5 and 6 helped the small Newton Choir to perform a magnificent rendition of Stanford's Magnificat and Nunc Dimitus and then began Rutter's 'For the Beauty of the Earth' without the other choir supporting. It was commented that they sounded like angels and it was much appreciated by the congregation.

The Church was very welcoming to both parents and children, providing cakes, tea and coffee and the sermon included readings and an interview with the children about the importance of story-telling.
