

Year 4 Poetry

The Hedgehog by Calum (4L)

MY KIND-HEARTED SISTER

My lovely sister so bright and fair
Like a feather flying in the air
A sister so rare and kind
Like a diamond hard to find
A sister to treasure
Like love with no measure
A sister with such a warm heart
Like a beautiful piece of art!

Artemis 4L

The Hedgehog

As prickly as a pineapple,
As slow as a sloth,
As small as a mango,
And as brown as a moth.
If you gave him a scare,
You better beware,
His spines like needles,
Will poke the unaware.

I Am As by Magnus (4L)

I AM AS

By Magnus

I am as quick as a swift white rabbit
I am as slow as a sleepy sloth
I am as happy as a small boy with a triple ice cream cone
I am as small as a miniature baby flea
I am as large as a colossal elephant
I am as kind as my grey haired Granny
I am as cold as ice on a dark winters morning
I am as mean as ..... I'm never mean!
I am as hot as a chilli pepper
I am as weak as an overcooked noodle
I am as strong as the biggest muscle in the body
I am as loud as a large foghorn
I am as quiet as a flea's fart
I am as gentle as a soft white birds feather drifting down, down, down .....

I am as brave roaring lion
I am as shy as a toddler on the first day of nursery
I am as lazy as a 9 year old boy watching TV
I am as busy as super strong ant.
Put it all together and you have ME!!!!

Soren by Saoirse (4L)

LO: To write a list poem using similes

Soren

I have a little brother, his name is Soren,
He is cuddly like a bear,
has very fluffy hair,
He is playful and inventive,
like a little baby meerkat,
He is funny and cute,
like a little fluffy puppy.
But he is most like the heavy, smashy rhinos, charging at each other!

Behind The Door Poem- Lily, 5L

A shimmering light shines through the cracks around the gilded white marble door.
Not knowing what is beyond, my curiosity calls me once more.
Behind the door, a translucent cotton wool cloud lifts me gently from my feet,
Whilst the sun's rays hug me with a warm and tender heat.
Beautiful chords of distant harps whisper like angels in my ears,
And the sweet scent of summer meadows takes away my fears.
I feel an invisible hand in mine as we rise up towards the sky Delicate doves flutter their feathers and elegantly swoop by.
A floating Grecian palace appears beyond a magical wall,
Made of rainbows rippling and cascading like a miraculous waterfall.
This wondrous door held so much behind,
A divine heaven for all mankind.

Lockdown! By Chloe, 4C

As trapped as a jail
Like a bird in a cage
No place to go
Plans all changed

Daily exercise how tiring
What an exhausting thing
Its making me want to pant
My breath as short as an ant

School at home's boring
No wonder I'm snoring,
My hands rough as sandpaper
All this washing now and later

The NHS, working hard as they can
To save every woman and every man Short of gowns, masks, and a lot more
Thursdays I cheer from our front door

As spaced out as you and me
Two metres apart it has to be
As empty as a haunted house
Are all the streets when I go out

The weather only shines when we're inside and pours with rain when we go out again
Home schooling on the VLE
It's so tiring to me

No friends around, all alone
As quiet as a gravestone
All restaurants closed how could it be
This time is very unusual to me

As flat as a pancake my sore eyes get
Looking at a laptop again is such a threat

People pay gold and silver prices for toilet paper and sanitizers shelves in shops completely empty
They're stocking up on food, enough to feed plenty

The Internet is what people depend on,
Seeing the world through a digital lens connecting with family and friends will help us survive until the end.

VOLDEMORT by Benn (4C)

Magical as Dumbledore
Crafted horcruxes like a sculptor
Flies with the agility of a bird
Dives into evilness
Commands his death eaters like a dictator
Kills as easily as somebody cutting a mushroom Destroys his soul like an unconscious hospital patient Slaughters like St George exterminating a dragon Murders people explosively like dropping a pot of hundreds and thousands Dies like a piece of cake eating itself

'Football' A simile poem

Footballs flying furiously like falcons past keepers into goals,

Open spaces occupied by opposing players oscillating like orca around their prey,

One-nil up!

Tottenham supporters cheer like they have won a trophy,

Boots as filthy as a baby's bib after breakfast,

All the players shaking hands like very old friends,

Loud speakers bellow like bulls as they announce the final score ,

Losers Liverpool limp back to the changing rooms like a lynx injured during a hunt.

Thomas, 4C

Corona virus lockdown

I argue with my sister like an angry cat and dog

I've been speeding downhill as quick as a
F1 car chasing a land rover

I've done finished chores like a ragged slave working for the queen

I've been building dens like a furry gerbil tunnelling through saw dust

I've rummaged for eggs like my frustrated mum when she's lost her keys

I'm as bored as a moody parrot stuck in a cage

by Charlie, 4C