Illustrating the very long sentence in the opening chapter of The Lion, the Witch and the Wardrobe by looking carefully at the text.

The first few doors they tried led only into spare bedrooms, as everyone had expected that they would; but soon they came to a very long room full of pictures, and they found a suit of armour; and after that there was a room all hung with green, with a harp in one corner; and then came there three steps down and five steps up, and then a kind of little upstairs hall and a door that led out on to a balcony, and then a whole series of rooms that led into each other and were lined with books – most of them very old books and some bigger than a Bible in a church.

and then came three steps down and five steps up, and then a kind of little upstairs hall and a door that led out onto a balcony.

The first few doors they tried led only into spare bedrooms as everyone expected they would.

But soon they came to a very long room full of pictures and there was found a suit of armour.

and after that there was a room all hung with green with a harp in one corner.
