

Barracudas Camps

Barracudas are currently setting in place the possibility of running their Summer Camps at a number of venues around the country. With this in mind they are opening up their booking system with priority bookings and early booking rates being provided to parents until the end of January 2021 (please see the information below from Barracudas).

Whilst we do not yet know whether these camps will definitely be going ahead it may be that you wish to plan ahead in the hope that the Camps do take place in Summer 2021. They have reassured us that they are committed to the safety and security of children and staff at camp and have a dedicated team making sure we're always fully up to date with the current COVID-19 guidance. They've developed 4 key strategies to ensure that their camps are COVID-19 secure and you can find more info here:
