

Kraznir -The Fifth Spy - Chapter 1

By Emma, Year 7

Let me introduce myself. I am called Red Hot Velvet Truffle. I am called this because I have a fiery personality and I love velvet truffles. I would like to say that I have a rather ostentatious life and I say that with pride as my life has not always been a piece of cake.

I am sure that before you read on you would like to know a bit of my history. I live in a mushroom; some might say it is a rather peculiar place to live but I just call it home. It is quite small-scale and only has one bedroom but that is all I need. In my bedroom I have a red Thornton's shaped sofa and a crystal ball shaped bed. When I was born my parents left me in Kraznir with a glass crystal ball necklace and told me, "Keep this necklace on you and don't take it off or all of your powers will be gone." Then they left me!

I have glossy, cherry, red hair that shines in the moonlight and black thick eye liner that shapes my face perfectly. I am adorned in a midnight black top with lavender sparkles and a soft silk belt. I also wear red velvet flares drenched in gems and rhinestones.

People say that I have many gifts. It is not good to boast but I have a supernatural power to see into the future. This power is extremely beneficial for when I am in battle as I can see the plots that the other team are planning against us. As well as seeing into the future, I can snap my fingers and puddings and cakes will appear. A benefit to this magical, sorceress spell is that the cakes are poisonous so if I give a cake to my opponent they will die, and we will be victorious.

I would like to say that I am not perfect. Well, who is? I struggle with severe allergies to almost everything. Obviously, this is a massive setback for me and my team. When I am on the battlefields I keep on sneezing and the sneezing just keeps on coming. The only thing I am not allergic to is my cakes and my crystal necklace.

I work with Sarason the Warrior, Touchfire the Wizard, Calypso the Elf and Littlejohn the Dwarf. The first dwarf I ever met was Sarason. She picked me up from the side of the road when my parents left me when I was younger and took me into her house and sat me down by her fireplace. She told me all about her life and how she met all the other spies. I then met all of the other spies - we joined forces and created the best army of warriors ever.

My feelings on being the boss are mixed. My favourite spy is definitely Touch Fire because he has such a positive feeling about everything. My hopes for the future are that we win more battles and stay an amazing group of warriors.
