

Congratulations

During half term, Navya in 6C held a fundraiser for a charity called Akshaya Patra.

The Akshaya Patra Foundation is a non-profit charity which feeds and educates homeless children in India. Navya chose this charity because she often visits her family in India and sees young children running barefoot in the scorching heat or shivering without any clothes in the biting cold; asking for food or water on the streets.

To raise funds for the charity, Navya undertook a read-a-thon in which she read 10 books (with no less than 304 pages) in a week. She gave up television and screen-time for the week to dedicate her time to reading. As you can see from Navya's Just Giving page, she exceeded her target of £200 and, as a result, 36 children will receive school lunch every day for a whole year.

Very well done to Navya.
